«Boston» Lauds May for reminding them of agreement to hold special meeting of Parent Society in Syracuse end of September. Sends call to be printed in Syracuse Daily Chronicle. Intends to be at meeting; trusts «Wendell» Phillips and Lucy Stone will also. Will try to persuade Theodore Parker to attend and preach for May on Sunday. Would like to take wife along, but travelling expenses too great. Reporter would be Mr. Yerrinton. Glad Gerrit Smith resigned seat in Congress; deplores his speech on annexation of Cuba.

«Boston» Concerns difficulty of holding meeting of American A.S. Society in Syracuse because of lack of speakers. Theodore Parker and Wendell Phillips cannot attend, Lucy Stone only with difficulty. William Wells Brown may arrive in time from England. Remond and Rev. Foss suggested by May's cousin «Samuel May, Jr.» Abby Kelley Foster means to attend. Saturday to be devoted to Jerry Rescue Celebration. Shortly after this meeting, G. must start for Pennsylvania and Ohio.

To Richard Davis Webb

[Boston] The writer asks Mr. Webb to forward a note to a Mr. L. Howorth in Bury, Lancashire. Says he is busy sending out solicitations for money. Refers to Parker Pillsbury's letter of Oct.5. Does not favor a union of the American and British Anti-Slavery Societies. Says the English followers of Garrison would be a submerged minority if the two groups were merged.

[Boston] The writer gives an account of the Anti-Slavery Fair. Mentions the arrest of Wendell Phillips and Theodore Parker for their "condemnation in Faneuil Hall of the kidnapping of Anthony Burns." Regrets the mismanagement of the Manchester Conference, but thinks that it may have had some good results. The writer is thankful that the English Abolitionists did not join the British & Foreign A-S Society. Says that Mary Estlin thought he was becoming sectarian in feeling. Discusses business details.

[Boston] The writer begins with a discussion of business details and then goes on to a commendation of the Anti-Slavery Advocate. Urges Mr. Webb to review such books as Samuel Ringold Ward's Autobiography. Garrison has not yet dealt with the misrepresentations of Julia Griffiths and Frederick Douglass, possibly because of "his habit of procrastination". Discusses Parker Pillsbury's activities in England. Gives the results of the Anti-Slavery Fair. Denies the story of Joseph Barker's death.

«Boston» Rejoices in May's convalescence. Tells of his own mishaps since meeting May at Syracuse depot: lectured at Rochester on worst night of inclement winter, became ill with inflamed lungs. Suggests beginning future lecture course in autumn, ending before January. G. convinced that Kansas will be slave state. Pres.Pierce ready to do what slave power demands. Gerrit Smith, Ward Beecher, Theodore Parker trust more in rifles than peaceful methods; this is time for "radical peace men to renew their testimonies." Denounces machinations of Julia Griffiths and unscrupulousness of Douglass. Convention called by Lewis Tappan, McCune Smith. Gerrit Smith to nominate presidential cand[illegible]s: ludicrous. Tone of Republican party becoming more [illegible]e and indefinite.

To Richard Davis Webb

«Boston» The writer tells about his tour through Ohio. Describes Cincinnati, O. and Newport, Ky. Met the Bailey family in Newport. Discusses dates for sending donations for the Anti-Slavery Fair from Great Britain. Will send a book entitled The United States Constitution and its Proslavery Compromises. Tells of the travels of the Weston family and Edmund Quincy's letters in the New York Tribune. Criticizes Mr. Webb's argument against Disunion. Argues strongly for it himself. Says Mrs. Wendell Phillips is a confirmed invalid. Mentions Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's visit to England. Thinks Col. Fremont may win the Presidential election.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

«Boston» The writer has inquired about the use of Horticultural Hall in School St. for the Anti-Slavery Bazaar and reports on the negotiations about the price. Mary Estlin, on March 9th, sent the writer a copy of Mrs. H. B. Stowe's letter to Lord Shaftesbury, Lord Carlisle, Joseph Sturge, etc. "relative to her use of the English Anti-Slavery funds confided to her care." This letter, entrusted to a Mr. Devell, only reached the writer today. Mrs. Stowe had sent her letter care of Joseph Sturge, who sent it on "to the select few only and suppressed it to the general." The reason for the suppression was Mrs. Stowe's eulogy of [illegible] American Anti-Slavery Society. Miss Estlin "lays on us a s[illegible]l injunction not to let it «the letter» get into print."

Sends Stroud's Sketch of the Slave Laws and Horace Greeley's History of the Struggle for the Extension or Restriction of Slavery in the annual box of reports. Says that Oliver Johnson's editorship of the A-S Standard has been terminated. The American A-S Society will furnish documentary evidence of the mortgage held by Julia Griffiths on Frederick Douglass' property. Describes Delia Webster, a false Abolitionist. Fears that the Wigham family lost money in a bank failure. Says that Mrs. Chapman wants to discontinue the A-S Bazaar.

«Boston» At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the American Anti-Slavery Society held this day, a resolution was unanimously adopted that "the editorial charge of the Anti-Slavery Standard be proffered to Mrs. Maria Weston Chapman ... believing that in her hands, the Standard will be conducted with a vigor and an ability which cannot fail to extend its circulation ..." One member of the Executive Committee offered $500 towards a suitable salary, and another "expressed his confidence that the entire amount could be easily obtained outside of the ordinary receipts of the Society."

Phillips to pay to W.L.G. and wife or, on their refusing it, to deposit it for the benefit of Fanny and Franky «Garrison». W.L. G. declares that whatever they have done for H. C. W. was done as "to one of our family." They accept the deposit for the children. Praises the courage of C. F. Hovey, who left $40,000 for unpopular reforms. W.L.G. cannot join H. C. W. on the western tour because of bronchial trouble. Has not attempted to lecture in the last four months.

«Boston» Has just received her reply to his letter of July 25. Regrets that it shows no abatement of anger. She need not have gone to such lengths to prove her integrity, since he never questioned it. Reviews her treatment of the Republican party, pointing out the inconsistency of collecting donations for the treasury of the Mass. A-S Society from its leaders by claiming that Abolitionist help would give the Republicans an advantage over their Democratic opponents, and then urging the passage of a resolution condemning the Republican party, at the N.E. «Boston» Is not free of catarrhal attacks. Explains his editorial policy. Is anxious to print the "amazing outpouring of public sentiment ... in relation to John Brown." Declines S. J. M.'s invitation to give Anti-Slavery lectures in Syracuse on account of the distance, expense and winter weather. Has declined an invitation to the annual meeting at Albany. However, as the Woman's Rights Convention will be held at Albany on Feb.3-4, he is tempted to revoke his decision and go to Albany and Syracuse, but cannot pledge himself to do so yet. The Executive Committee will send Anti-Slavery books to England, at S. J. M's suggestion. Gerrit Smith is nearly restored to health.

[Boston] The writer discusses the illness of Mary Weston. Tells of Wendell Phillips' handling of Anne W. Weston's affairs. Gives a long account of a tax controversy between Weymouth and Boston. Distributed 25 tracts. Someone named Hayward blamed the writer for not putting up more of a fight at a meeting on the 24th. Talks about the "Mobocrats" and one Redpath. Objects to yielding a "hair's-breadth" to the opposition. Discusses, in a conversation with Ann Terry, the advisability of giving advice to one's friends. Talks about the usefulness of some of the recent Anti-Slavery meetings. Mentions a continuance of the [illegible]n Brown meeting and refers again to Redpath.

To Wendell Phillips Garrison

[Boston] The ride home from Northumberland, (N.H.) was very trying. Met Mr. Benton, a Republican lawyer of Lancaster, on the train. Had heard W.L.G.'s lecture there with much satisfaction. William L. Garrison Jr. rode with the family from Lynn to West Lynn. He leaves soon for Ghent. H. C. Wright greeted the family on its return to Dix Place and said it was the hottest day of the season. The expenses of the trip averaged $10 a week for each member of the family. "Travelling is an expensive luxury."

«Boston» Thanks O. J. for the gift of a daguerreotype of himself. Meditates on the changes due to growing older. Emphasizes "brotherly feeling" between himself and Johnson. Has returned from a vacation tour of nearly three weeks with his family in the New Hampshire mountains. Touring with a large family is an "expensive luxury." The election of A. Lincoln seems probable. "He will do nothing to offend the South."

«Boston» Has been suffering from congestion of the lungs. Dr. Geist warns of danger of remaining in the lecturing field. Will be unable to attend the anniversary of the "Jerry rescue." But the participation of F. Douglass would in any event keep him from being there. Regards Douglass as "thoroughly base and selfish." Being hostile to the American Anti-Slavery Society, he misrepresented it at S. S. Foster's Political Convention in Worcester. He treated G. Thompson contemptuously in England. The Hovey Committee will distribute 5000 copies of S. J. M.'s Peace Address. S. J. M.'s tribute to Theodore Parker is in the hands of the printer. Considers Gerrit Smith's n[illegible]tion for the presidency a farce. W. Goodell, in his [illegible]cipia, repudiates the nomination.

«Boston» Will be unable to attend the Convention at «Tremont» Temple called to commemorate the martyrdom of John Brown and discuss methods of abolishing Slavery. Sets forth his views and stresses three points: (1) Slavery is to be denounced without compromise, (2) No upholder of Slavery should be admitted to church membership or to a position of public trust, and (3) Immediate and unconditional emancipation. To Oliver Johnson

«Boston» Has had a succession of colds and is still weak. Refers to a clairvoyant vision of Mary Ann «Mrs. Johnson» in which a plot to assault W. Phillips was revealed. His life is in danger because of the hostility aroused against him since the John Brown meeting. W.L.G. is sure of a mobocratic outbreak at the annual meeting. Mayor Wightman refuses protection and says that in case of a disturbance, he will arrest the speakers and trustees of Tremont Temple. W. Phillips will speak at the Music Hall to Theodore Parker's congregation. Mayor Wightman refuses protection there, too. Fears that the whole country will come under the sway of the Slave power.

To Edmund Quincy

[Boston] Has been kept at home for eighteen days by a fever and is not strong enough to attend a meeting. It will be the first anniversary meeting of the Mass. A-S Society that W.L. G. has failed to attend. It will be the "most potential ever held by the Society." Cause is "not ours, but God's." Wishes that a patient, peaceful spirit may prevail at the meeting.

«Boston» Refers to information from O. J. about the Anti-Slavery record of one Kennedy, the Superintendent of the (New York) City Police, who is disposed to give the Abolitionists protection. He, W. Phillips and E. Quincy decided not to attempt more than one public meeting during the week of the anniversary of the «American Anti-Slavery Society». The evening meeting at the Cooper Institute should be omitted. "Now that civil war has begun," Abolitionists must not add to the general commotion. All sympathies must be with the government,-without compromise of principle. Was astonished by Phillips's speech at New Bedford.

To Oliver Johnson

«Boston» Regrets that O. J. cannot be at the Framingham Grove tomorrow. The financial prospects of the American Anti-Slavery Society are poor. Mrs. M. W. Chapman has given up the idea of holding an Anti-Slavery Festival, which, like the Anti-Slavery Fairs preceding it, was the main source of support, especially for the National Anti-Slavery Standard. She believes that friends abroad, who contributed nearly half of the income obtained from fairs and festivals, are now "muddled about the war here." Nevertheless a vigorous effort will be made on behalf of the Standard. Appeals are to be sent out shortly.

No.17

«Boston» Advises sending a hundred copies of the Nat. A-S Standard to members of Congress. "What a wishy-washy message from the President!" Criticises the President. Points out newspapers that are his admirers. Shudders at the possibility of the war's ending without extinction of Slavery. All who denounce and oppose emancipation must be branded as accessories to Southern treason. Hopes Mayor J. M. Wightman of Boston will be ejected as was Mayor Wood of New York. W. L.G. was confined to the house last week by an inflammation of the eye. His wife was ill at the same time. Comments on «H.» W. Beecher's "practically pro-slavery sentiments."

‹Boston› Refers again to eye inflammation and his wife's illness (Cf. letter No.17). Feels flattered by the invitation to lecture in Syracuse on Slavery and the War, but declines on account of the winter weather. W. Phillips cannot go to Syracuse either, because of other engagements. Praises the mayor of Syracuse for upholding free speech in the case of F. Douglass. Refers to the handbill designed to stir up a mob. W. P. Garrison will again try for the appointment at the Latin School. F. Jackson's sudden death surprised everybody. Enumerates his bequests to Anti-Slavery, woman's rights movements and to W.L.G. for F. J. Garrison's education at Harvard. Aunt Charlott[illegible]ffin› is much with W.L.G.'s family.

«Boston» Has asked George W. Julian and Gerrit Smith to speak at the annual meeting, but doubts if either will accept the invitation. Doesn't feel inclined to engage «O. B.?» Frothingham, because of an earlier refusal, but, if O. J. should happen to see him, an invitation might be extended, if it appeared that O. B. F. would be willing to speak on this occasion. "Anna E. Dickinson is already beginning to make her mark, as you will see by this week's Liberator." W. Phillips has returned in good health.

«Boston» Thanks O. J. for a card photograph. Will attend "your next 'Progressive' «Friends?» meeting at Longwood." Gerrit Smith and G. W. Julian declined W.L.G.'s invitation to speak at the annual meeting. Suggests Samuel Aaron as a speaker. W. Phillips must give an address at the meeting. "I am sorry and surprised that Mr. Frothingham so underrates his admirable performances."

To Richard Davis Webb

[Boston] The writer thanks Mr. Webb for the large amount of space in the Anti-Slavery Advocate allotted to his letter to Eliza Wigham. Says many people praised it. Thanks Mr. Webb for the photograph of him and his wife. Lists the photographs of famous people in his collection. Explains certain details in connection with the subscriptions to the Liberator and the Anti-Slavery Standard. Tells of his son's experiences on a blockading gunboat. Mentions a rumor of the capture of New Orleans.

«(Boston)» Comments on the American (A.S.) Society."It had done its work. It had borne the Lord to Jerusalem & I was not disturbed to see it sniffing about for palm branches on its own hook after the Lord had no further need of it." Discusses the situation of the Standard. Neither the Hovey nor the Jackson fund can be applied to the Standard, as neither Hovey nor Jackson liked the paper. If the circulation is only 1000 and if, "as Garrison feels sure, no effort we can make can increase the circulation," then "we must rely pretty much on the general agency." the "beauty in death" of Sarah Robbins Howe, aged 74 years. Mrs.Howe had delivered to Mary Robbins a package of letters from Eliza Cabot(Mrs.Follen) from the time they were girls to the death of Dr.Follen, which was to be passed on to the writer. Describes Mrs.Howe's funeral at Mt.Auburn Cemetery. "Certainly there is something consoling in death." The writer tells how she dispelled some scandalous gossip about Effie Tudor's marriage by giving the facts. Charles Follen was delighted to see "the ugly Boston spirit put down." Garrison told the writer that "the friction in the remnant of abolitionists was something frightful." Gives details, involving Pillsbury, Powell, and the Foster[illegible] writer resolved not to accept this year's appointment [illegible] the Executive Committee; "common sense taught the value and inevitability of a change..."

«Boston» Admits to being lax about keeping up with his correspondence. The Liberator and the Nat. A-S Standard "should harmonize ... in the mode of dealing with such correspondents as wish to make use of their columns." Commends O. J. for declining to publish Howland's attack on Mr. May. Reports poor attendance at the Ellenville Convention. Recommends an editorial note of dissent in the case of a letter which does not meet with his approval. "I am growing more and more skeptical as to the 'honesty' of Lincoln." Considers him "near lunacy." Refers to the unhappy course of the war. Fanny Garrison is visiting the Powells at Ghent, N.Y. and will go from there to the [illegible]nys in Brooklyn. Suggests people for Fanny to call o[illegible] The Liberator's subscription is down 200 names.
